GOVERNOR HADLEY AND HIS HAPPY FAMILY

are now living in a log cabin, no had cider, however.

The bill to give $150,000 for a government survey of low lands along the Mississippi in Southeast Missouri and in Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi, was knocked out in the Senate through an objection by Senator Hale of Maine. The old gentleman thought the appropriation was "too local."

The Missouri river gets a million from Congress as a starter. That magnificent sum will give the shifting sands more trouble from artificial interference than they have had for many years. In ten years or less time the Missouri will be bearing the heavy tonnage of Western traffic and regulating freight rates better than any legislature or commission could do it.

High finance will smile at the Missouri man who sent $5 to a Montgomery City clergyman in the belief that its payment saved him from hell. It was, indeed, cheap at the price, but the moral quality isn't determined by the amount involved, but by the nature of the act.—St. Louis Republic.

W. T. Keath, deputy game inspector, was here this week looking after hand fishers and squirrel hunters out of season. The hand fishers along Loure are being investigated and a word to the wise is sometimes sufficient. Fifty dollars is the lowest fine and the cost on top of that. It is sport, but expensive, if you are caught.

Congress has adjourned. On another page will be found the work of the last session epitomized and other items of special interest, also a good story, the Sunday School lesson and state news.

Where did you get that new Dresser, Mrs. Jones? Why, at Rolla Paul's, of course. He keeps everything so nice and clean, and then I wanted to get that handsome Rocker he gives away Saturday at three o'clock.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.
Sunday, June 26.
Bible school at 9:30 a. m.
Lord's Supper at 11 a. m.
Prayer meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m.
All are invited.
Miss Beulah Rodgers is organist at the Sunday school during the absence of Miss Eunice Davis, and makes a good one.

Bring your eggs and produce to this city. Our merchants are paying top prices for them.

John W. Jacks went to Excelsior Springs Wednesday for a few weeks' stay.

PRODUCING SUPPLIES.

At the late annual meeting of the Board of Managers of the Fulton Asylum for the Insane Governor Hadley was in consultation with the board about changes and improvements. He walked over the farm with the members of the board and suggested that the soil be analyzed to determine its adaptation to such products as may be consumed at the institution. And he also suggested that a dairy herd be secured and a record kept of the product of each cow in order to ascertain the quantity and quality of milk and thus determine the best breed adapted to the uses of the institution—and the number of cows necessary to produce an adequate supply of dairy products. He has made the same suggestions to the managers of the Deaf and Dumb institution at Fulton and the asylums at Nevada and St. Joseph. In fact he is trying to have all of the eleemosynary institutions which have lands to be used produce supplies and thus cut down the quantity of food otherwise paid for by the state. It is a practical idea and will be carried out. A herd of fifteen cows has been provided for the state penitentiary. The animals are of fine blood and will produce the milk and dairy supplies for the hospital department, especially. A bull of fine pedigree was purchased from P. P. Lewis, president of the State Dairy Association and added to this herd. It is said to be the finest bull in Cole county—of any class.

Season tickets to the Chautauqui given free with every $25.00 cash purchase until August 25th at the St. Louis Furniture Company.

Napoleon's Grit
was of the unconquerable, never-say-die kind, the kind that you need most when you have a bad cold, cough or lung disease. Suppose troches, cough syrups, cod liver oil or doctors have all failed, don't lose heart or hope. Take Dr. King's New Discovery. Satisfaction is guaranteed when used for any throat or lung trouble. It has saved thousands of hopeless sufferers. It masters stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, hemorrhages, lagrippe, croup, asthma, hay fever and whooping cough and is the most safe and certain remedy for all bronchial affections. 50c. $1.00. Trial bottle free at Crump & Kidwell's.

PROHIBITION DAY

NEXT SUNDAY.
The seven thousand churches of Missouri are requested to make an offering for funds to finance the state campaign to redeem the state from the liquor traffic on next Sunday, July 3. At least $100,000 is needed. Only four months until the voters will decide this great issue. Now is the time to help if you would have a redeemed Missouri. W. C. T. U.

Dr. Davidson physician and Oculist will be at Mrs. Caruther's Hotel every first and third Mondays in each month, (see your calendar) Should your eyes need attending in any way call. Fitting glasses his hobby.

Rolla Paul pays more for eggs and produce than any one else, and now he is going to give away a handsome $6.50 Rocker Saturday at three o'clock.

Let the children enjoy the Motion Picture Show and songs. Admission only... 5c.

LITTLE ROLLA POOL.

Little Rolla, the 21 month's old son of Allen and Maud Poole, formerly of Montgomery, died at Union Station in St. Louis, Sunday evening. Mr. Poole went from Montgomery to St. Louis where he had lived several years, and last March went out to Oklahoma on account of his children. Little Rolla was stricken with cholera infantum and the doctor there advised him to take the child back to Missouri as quickly as possible. They started on two hours' notice, and had not been in the Union Station at St. Louis more than a few minutes when the little fellow passed away. The body was brought to Montgomery Monday for interment. Brief services were held at the residence of Harris Maupin Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock conducted by Elder W. A. Melan after which the little body was tenderly laid away in the city cemetery. They have another little boy about four years old. Mrs. Poole was an adopted daughter of Henry Maughns, and Mr. Poole lived here before their marriage, and both of them have many friends who sympathize with them in their sad bereavement.

Work 24 Hours A Day.

The busiest little things ever made are Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globule of health, that changes weakness into strength, languor into energy, brain-fog into mental power; curing constipation, headache, chills, dyspepsia, malaria. 25c. at Crump & Kidwell's.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. The program committee has decided to observe the 3d Sunday in July as Children's Day. Preaching at 11 a. m. League at 7 p. m. Let each Leaguer be on time because of the union services. Prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:45 p. m. The preachers, after talking the matter over and consulting with their brethren, have decided to hold union services each Sunday night during July and August. The union services will be held at the Presbyterian church next Sunday night at 8 o'clock. The Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. Nebel Friday afternoon.

R. S. Paul is going after the business, and getting it. See ad.

Where did you get that new Dresser, Mrs. Jones? Why, at Rolla Paul's, of course. He keeps everything so nice and clean, and then I wanted to get that handsome Rocker he gives away Saturday at three o'clock.

DEATH OF LEONARD EVANS.

Mr. Leonard Evans died at the home of his son, Isaac Evans, near Gamma, Wednesday, June 29, 1910, from the infirmities of old age, after about three weeks' illness. He was about 80 years of age. He leaves one son, Isaac, and a daughter, Mrs. Hallie Moore, of Middletown, besides two stepsons, George E. and John Earnest, and numerous friends to mourn his death.

The funeral was held yesterday, Thursday, afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Tribune extends sympathy.

My, but Rolla Paul's store looks nice! Everything is so neat and clean, and the inducements he gives his trade are unsurpassed.

LUKE EMERSON NOT DEAD.

A report gained currency here last week that Luke Emerson, of Bowling Green, Mo., the well known dealer and importer of jacks, had killed a number of men near Seattle, Wash., and had been lynched.

A long-distance telephone message, however, states that the report is without foundation and that Mr. Emerson is on his way home.

About eighteen years ago Mr. Emerson became involved in a difficulty in London, England, which resulted in the death of one of the parties, but Emerson was acquitted of any crime.

My, but Rolla Paul's store looks nice! Everything is so neat and clean, and the inducements he gives his trade are unsurpassed.

Camden Case of Ferguson, Mo., is a guest at Porter Taylor's this week.

Chas. Turner of St. Louis is visiting home folks here this week.

Mrs. W. C. Hughes and children and Mrs. J. E. Chadwick left Wednesday for Minneapolis, Minn., on an extended visit to Mrs. E. M. Hughes and Mrs. Virgie Griffith.

Don't think that piles can't be cured. Thousands of obstinate cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment. 50 cents at any drug store.

ORIGIN OF TABLE UTENSILS

French Writer Attempts to Discover the Beginnings of Plates, Spoons and Other Articles.

A French writer attempts to trace table utensils—most of them of recent introduction—to their origin. The Romans took their meals lying upon very low couches, and it was not until about the time of Charlemagne that a stand was used, around which guests were seated on cushions, while the table made its appearance in the middle ages, and with it came benches with backs. The Greeks and Romans ate from a kind of porringer, yet during a portion of the middle ages slices of bread, cut round, took the place of plates. The spoon is very ancient, and many fine specimens are in existence that were used by the Egyptians in the seventeenth century. B. C. The knife, though very old, had not come into common use as a table utensil in the tenth century. The fork was absolutely unknown to the Greeks and Romans, appeared only as a curiosity in the middle ages, and was first used upon the table by Henry III. Drinking cups—in the middle Ages made from metal, more or less precious—naturally date from the remotest antiquity. The use of glasses from Venice began to be general in the fifteenth century. The salt cellar appeared at a very early date, and occupied the place of honor at the banquets of the Greeks and Romans, many of them being of gold and silver. The castor is probably not older than the sixteenth century.

HAD TO BE HUSKY.

Lady of the House—Why is it that so many of you tramps and beggars are such strong, husky looking men?

Tramp—Well, ma'am, since you women have gone in so strong for home gymnastics it takes strong lookin' fellows to beg without gettin' hurt.

THE FIRST IN LHASA.

The Chinese invasion of Tibet reminds us that it was an Englishman, Thomas Manning, a friend of Charles Lamb, who first entered its capital, the mysterious and forbidden city, Lhasa. Manning set off on his adventure without any aid from the government, and with only a single servant. His success was largely due to his meeting a Chinese general on the borders of Tibet, some of whose troops he cured of illness. In their country he traveled as a medical man, reaching Lhasa in December, 1811. He remained there until 1812, when by peremptory orders from Peking he was sent back to India. Manning died in 1840, but his interesting narrative of the journey was not published until 1876.

CONFEDERATE CRUISERS.

The question as to the number of craft of all kind destroyed during the war between the states by the Confederate cruisers may be summarized as follows: Ships, 75; schooners, 63; barks, 71; brigs, 38; steamers, 3; gunboats, 1; pilot boats, 2; cutters, 1. Total, 249. Value of the same was $8,636,999.82. The greater part of this damage was done by the Alabama, which single craft practically drove the United States merchant marine out of existence.
